

General information on decontamination methods (To those who cannot use water)

To those people who are anxious about the possibility of radioactive contamination due to the reactor accident at Fukushima Daiichi plant, please take the following measures.

Even if there is contamination, large amount of the radioactive material can be wiped off with the measures shown below. Contamination doesn't spread after wiping off.

1. Remove your clothing and shoes. Put them into a plastic bag.
2. Wipe your exposed body parts with wet cloth or wet-tissue.

(Put used materials into the plastic bag for disposal)
